

ARE YOU CURRENTLY ELIGIBLE FOR THE COVID-19 VACCINE?

This chart will be updated as we move into future eligibility phases.

As we get more vaccine in the state, more people will be able to get vaccinated. Thank you for your patience!

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Can I get the COVID-19 vaccine if I'm pregnant or planning to become pregnant?

Please speak with your health care provider about your vaccination options.

How do you define "health care setting"?

"Health care setting" refers to places where health care is delivered to humans and includes, but is not limited to, acute care facilities, long term acute care facilities, inpatient rehabilitation facilities, nursing homes and assisted living facilities, home health care, vehicles where health care is delivered (e.g., mobile clinics), and outpatient facilities, such as dialysis centers, physician offices, and others.

If you work in a health care setting or are a first responder, you are currently eligible to get the COVID-19 vaccine. This includes the full spectrum of workers at health agencies including all types of staff (e.g., contracted, part-time, unpaid/volunteer) and the spectrum of staff who provide services (e.g., ambulatory, direct patient care, support services). It is inclusive of Community Health Workers, home care aides, health care interpreters, doulas, caregivers, and personal care providers.

How do you define "long-term care facility"?

For the purposes of the vaccine allocation guidance, long-term care facilities are defined as community-based, group living settings where most individuals over 65 years of age are receiving care, supervision, or assistance and are unable to reside independently in the community.

If you live or work in a group setting like a long-term care facility, assisted living facility, group home, etc., you are currently eligible to get the COVID-19 vaccine.

If I'm between the ages of 50 and 64, am I eligible now for the vaccine?

If you are between 50 and 64, you are only eligible for the vaccine now if one of the following apply to you:

1. You are unable to live independently and are being cared for by a relative, in-home caregiver or someone who works outside the home.
2. You live in a multigenerational home (2 or more generations) where you care for someone who is not your child, such as a grandchild, parent, niece or nephew.

What is a multigenerational household?

A home where individuals from 2 or more generations live such as an elder and a grandchild. Does not include a parent or guardian caring for a child or teen.

Who is considered a "first responder"?

First responders include Emergency Medical Services (EMS) staff regardless of agency (e.g., fire, ambulance, hospital). It includes frontline workers, emergency workers providing patient transport/ambulatory support and those working in the field to provide oversight of these EMS positions.
